Instruction movies: Design and content

Our recommendations are based on:

<https://legemiddelverket.no/andre-temaer/reklame/veiledninger-og-rad-for-legemiddelreklame/veiledninger-for-legemiddelreklame/veiledning-for-teknisk-administrering-av-legemidler-med-hensyn-til-reklamebestemmelsene>

Make sure that you only include information concerning administration (including preparation) in the instruction movies (or documents). All information shall be in accordance with the information in the package leaflets.

Do not include company logo or product logo, and do not point out positive features, for instance 'the product is easy to use'.

Based on universal design, we recommend both text and voice for movies, both in Norwegian language. English text is allowed in movies to be watched by healthcare professionals.

Please don't include background music. Music can be disturbing for people with hearing disabilities.

Our editorial staff may make minor changes to movies and documents, to ensure that our recommendations are followed.

Educational materials: Design and content

The editorial staff at Felleskatalogen doesn't evaluate educational materials. Please remember to name all educational material documents with 'RMP' when uploading into a media folder in FK SHARE.

The company is responsible for sending updated documents to Felleskatalogen, and our editorial staff will make sure to publish the updated documents in a few days.
